In 1985, the United Nations designated 5 December each year as the International Volunteer Day, also known as Thank a Volunteer Day in WA. Each year, the Department of Communities provides funding to assist communities throughout Western Australia to hold an event or display on Thank a Volunteer Day / International Volunteer Day, 5 December.

Communities that receive a Thank a Volunteer Day Celebration Grant are required to hold their event or activity on Wednesday, 5 December 2018, as part of Western Australia's Thank a Volunteer Day and International Volunteer Day. If this date is not suitable for regional applicants, because of local area issues such as harvest time or bush fire season, communities may hold their celebration any time in the three months following 5 December 2018.

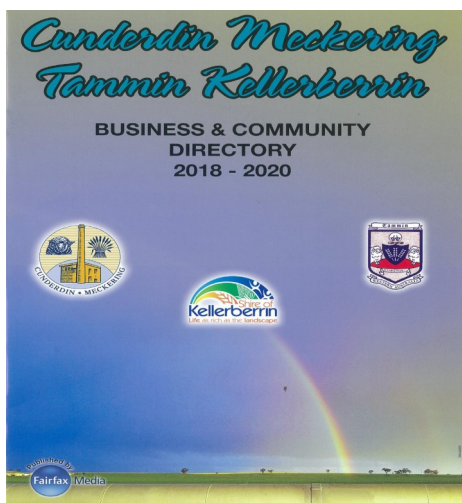

Tammin Tourist Sites

Why not take some time out to have a look at some of Tammin's historical sites?

Yorkrakine Rock is a granite rock formation located approximately 25km north of Tammin and 50km south east of Dowerin in the Eastern Wheatbelt region of Western Australia. It makes up part of the Yorkrakine Rock Nature Reserve and is located on the Tammin Wyalkatchem Road.

Hunts Well is a historical site located a few kilometres south of Tammin on Goldfields Road. It was once used as a watering point for prospectors and others enroute to the Goldfields. It is worth a visit to see this important part of the state's history.

Or if your not one for the outdoors come and enjoy our air conditioned library at the Tammin Shire Office, with a wide range of books to suit everyone's taste.

Works & Services - January 2019

After the Christmas / New Year break the Works and Services crew have been busy working on the RV Site located at Donnan Park, which is now operational but still has a few weeks before completion.

Road repairs have been carried out on the school bus route and surrounding roads. Goldfields Road is now re-open after damages through harvest and we thank locals for there patience. If there are any concerns to local roads please contact the Shire of Tammin, without your feed back we may not be aware.

We are aware of the concern in regards to the Corella shooting, please be advised the shooting will be ongoing at the Tammin oval. This is to scare the birds away. The Shire is trying to maintain damages cause by the Corella's, this is proving to be an uphill battle.

The bowling green, oval, street lights, roof on the Kep and the Christmas tree lights are just a few damages caused by the Corellas.

Upcoming work

The Shire will be clearing blocks in town that are non-compliant with Bush Fire Act 1954. This work will be ongoing though the month of February.

Termite spraying is currently taking place to all Shire owned buildings and trees within the Shire of Tammin.
